1 Every declaration of conformity should be uniquely identified.

2 The responsible issuer must be unequivocally specified.

3 The "Article" must be unequivocally described so that the declaration of conformity may be related to the article in question. For mass-produced products, it is not necessary to give individual serial numbers. Where variants of an article are to be covered, these must be detailed.

Reference to relevant test reports/certification, and issue date of the reports/certification, that show how compliance is achieved:-

This is particularly relevant where the same or very similar model is or may be imported or manufactured, by other NZ suppliers.
A copy of the SDoC and test report(s) (certification) and/or other supporting compliance documentation must be available, if the supporting compliance documentation is not available directly from issuer, the name and address of from where it can be obtained from, must be provided by any supplier within the New Zealand supply chain. This form can be edited to increase any text box size, in order to insert more detail, than the current space allows, if required.

This is an example ISO/IEC 17050-1 form for a recognised declaration of conformity; any other form complying with the requirements of ISO/IEC 17050-1:2004, may be used instead, for the purpose of Electricity Regulation 83.

Nothing prevents this form being extended to act as an SDoC, for other regulatory purposes.
